- your photograph
- marital status and dependents
- information included on your application form including references, education history and employment history
- documentation relating to your right to work in the UK
- national Insurance number
- copy of driving licence
- evidence of qualifications or professional memberships.

We may also collect, store and use the following "special categories" of more sensitive personal information:

- Information about your race or ethnicity, and community background
- religious beliefs, sexual orientation, sex life and political opinion
- Information about your health, including any medical condition, health and sickness records
- Information about criminal convictions and offences.

We may also collect the following information after the shortlisting stage, and before making a final decision to recruit:

- Information about your previous academic and/or employment history, including details of any conduct or performance issues, appraisals, time and attendance, from references obtained about you from previous employers and/or education providers;
- Information regarding your academic and professional qualifications;
- Where applicable: Information regarding your criminal record, in criminal records checks and credit history and any other data revealed during background screenings;
- Your nationality and immigration status and information from related documents, such as your passport or other identification and immigration information;¹
- A copy of your driving licence (If relevant to the position you are applying for);

¹ Candidates are required (by law or in order to enter into your contract of employment) to provide this information to us to enable us to verify your right to work and suitability for the position.

How we collect the information

We collect personal data about candidates from the following sources:

- Data that you, the candidate submit in application forms, resumes, CVs, letters or other written material;
- recruitment agency, third party placement firms or job search websites;
- background check provider;
- Your named referees, from whom we collect the following categories of data;
- Where the appointment is to a certification/senior management function/credit union non-executive director position your previous/current employer for a regulatory reference.

Planned data transmission to third countries

Data may be transferred from us to the Republic of Ireland. The data is transferred on the basis of an adequacy decision by the UK in respect of the EU.

Updates to this notice

We will make changes to this notice from time to time, particularly when we change how we use your information, and change our technology and products. You can always ask us for a copy of an up-to-date version of this notice.

Why we collect the information and how we use it

We will typically collect and use this information for the following purposes:

FULFILLING CONTRACT

We need to process your personal information to decide whether to enter into a contract of employment with you to take steps to enter into a contract with you if successful.

Assess your skills, qualifications, and suitability for the position

OUR LEGAL DUTY

This basis is appropriate when we are processing personal data to comply with UK or Northern Ireland Law

For compliance with a legal obligation (e.g. our obligation to check that you are eligible to work in Northern Ireland);

to undertake relevant criminal record checks as required by our regulatory and as permitted by law for specific functions/roles only

Keep records related to our hiring processes;

LEGITIMATE INTERESTS

A legitimate interest is when we have a business or commercial reason to use your information. But even then, it must not unfairly go against what is right and best for you. If we rely on our legitimate interest, we will tell you what that is.

Assess your skills, qualifications, and suitability for the position

Communicate with you about the recruitment process.;

Keep records related to our hiring processes.

Our legitimate interest: It is in the legitimate interests of the credit union to recruit individuals to roles and functions for its benefit.

Our legitimate interest: To ensure we keep you updated on the process, we will contact you via phone, email and/or letter, to ensure that correct instructions were given or taken due to the nature of our business and to quickly and accurately resolve any disputes.

Our legitimate interest: To keep records related to the hiring process in case you wish to exercise any rights relating to your information, and quickly and accurately resolve any disputes.

If we wish to retain your personal data on file, on the basis that a further opportunity may arise in future and we may wish to consider you for that, we will write to you separately, seeking your consent to retain your personal data for a fixed period on that basis.

Having received your application form, we will then process that information to decide whether you meet the necessary requirements to be shortlisted for the role. If we decide to call you for an interview, we will use the information you provide to us at the interview to decide whether to offer you the position. If we decide to offer you the position we will then take up references before confirming your appointment.

In general, access to your personal data will be restricted to minimise the number of people in the credit union who need it in order to evaluate your application for employment, provide functions supporting our Recruiting and selection team e.g. external interviewers, or to whom we are compelled to provide it by applicable law.

We seek to ensure that our information collection and processing is always proportionate. We will notify you of any changes to information we collect or to the purposes for which we collect and process it.

If you fail to provide personal information

If you fail to provide information when requested, which is necessary for us to consider your application (such as evidence of qualifications or work history), we will not be able to process your application successfully. For example, if we require a credit check or references for this role and you fail to provide us with relevant details, we will not be able to take your application further.

How we use special category data

We will use your special category data in the following ways:

- We will use information about your race or national or ethnic origin to establish if we require a work permit for you to be eligible to work for us and community background, to ensure meaningful equal opportunity monitoring and reporting²].
- Data about your health or disability where it is relevant to your ability or availability to work.

Information about criminal convictions

We will process information about criminal convictions in respect of the following roles only:

- We are required by the Prudential Regulation Authority and the Financial Conduct Authority to carry out criminal record checks for those carrying out Credit Union Non-Executive Director and Senior Management Functions

We are required to carry out a criminal records check in order to satisfy ourselves that there is nothing in your criminal convictions history which makes you unsuitable for the role(s).

Where we do process criminal data we will ensure that appropriate additional safeguards as required by the Data Protection Act 2018 are in place.

Change of purpose

We will only use your personal data for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If we need to use your personal data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so. Please note that we may process your personal data without your knowledge or consent, in compliance with the above rules, where this is required or permitted by law.

² [Information only] Under fair employment legislation in Northern Ireland, registered employers in Northern Ireland have had a legal duty to monitor the composition of their workforce and of those applying to fill vacancies. This applies to employers with more than 10 full-time employees. Registered employers are also required to make an annual monitoring return to the Equality Commission. Failure to supply this information is a criminal offence, as is failure to supply it within the prescribed period. Article 52 of the Fair Employment and Treatment (Northern Ireland) Order 1998 requires registered employers to prepare for each year and serve on the Commission a monitoring return which contains such information about the employees of the employer and those applying for employment in the concern as may be prescribed in the Regulations. The Fair Employment (Monitoring) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1999 set out in Schedule 1 the prescribed information. Regulation 17 obliges an employer to keep written information relating to monitoring for a period of 3 years after an employee leaves employment. Regulation 18 relates to applicant monitoring information and obliges the employer to retain that information for a period of 3 years after the application is made.

² The ILCU (a trade and representative body for credit unions in Ireland and Northern Ireland) provides professional and business support services such as HR to affiliated credit unions. We may disclose information to authorised officers or employees of the ILCU as part of our affiliation and for the purpose of the ILCU providing services to us

How we may share the information and how secure is my information?

We may also need to share some of the above categories of personal data with other parties, such as HR consultants, the Irish League of Credit Unions (ILCU)³, insurers and professional advisers. All our third-party service providers are required to take appropriate security measures to protect your personal data in line with our policies. We do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal data for their own purposes unless they are deemed to be data controllers in their own right⁴. We only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions. Usually, information will be anonymised but this may not always be possible. The recipient of the information will also be bound by confidentiality obligations. We may also be required to share some personal data with our regulators, the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) or the Prudential Regulation Authority (PRA) as required to comply with the law.

Data Retention Periods

We will retain your personal data for a period of 6 months after we have notified you of rejection. We retain your personal data for that period so that we can show, in the event of a legal claim, that we have not discriminated against candidates on prohibited grounds and that we have conducted the recruitment exercise in a fair and transparent way. Once the retention period has expired, the respective data will be permanently deleted. If you require further information please contact us. Please see our data retention schedule.

If your application is successful, we will keep only the recruitment information that is necessary in relation to your employment. Information collected by us upon when employed by us is set out in our data protection privacy notice for Credit Union Personnel (which will be made available should you be successful).

If we wish to retain your personal data on file, on the basis that a further opportunity may arise in future and we may wish to consider you for that, we will write to you separately, seeking your consent to retain your personal data for a fixed period on that basis.

³ The ILCU (a trade and representative body for credit unions in Ireland and Northern Ireland) provides professional and business support services such as HR to affiliated credit unions. We may disclose information in your application to authorised officers or employees of the ILCU for the purpose of the ILCU providing services to us

⁴ As a data controller, the organisations will be required to have provided you with a separate privacy notice setting out what it does with its data.

Your Rights in connection with your personal data are to:

To find out whether we hold any of your personal data and if we do to request access to that data and to be furnished a copy of that data. You are also entitled to request further information about the processing.

Request correction of the personal data that we hold about you. This enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate information we hold about you rectified.

Request erasure of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal data where there is no good reason for us to continue to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal data where you have exercised your right to object to processing (see below).

Object to processing of your personal data where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) and there is something about your particular situation which makes you want to object to processing on this ground. You also have the right to object where we are processing your personal data for direct marketing purposes.

Request the restriction of processing of your personal information. You can ask us to suspend processing personal data about you, in certain circumstances.

Where we are processing your data based solely on your consent you have a right to withdraw that consent at any time and free of charge.

Request that we: a) provide you with a copy of any relevant personal data in a reusable format; or b) request that we transfer your relevant personal data to another controller where it's technically feasible to do so. 'Relevant personal data is personal data that: You have provided to us or which is generated by your use of our service. Which is processed by automated means and where the basis that we process it is with your consent or under a contract that you have entered into with us.

You have a right to complain to the Information Commissioners Office (ICO) in respect of any processing of your data by;

Tel: 028 9027 8757 or 0303 123 1114 Email: ni@ico.org.uk Post: ICO, 3rd Floor, 14 Cromac Place, Belfast, BT7 2JB

*Please note that the above rights are not always absolute and there may be some limitations.

If you want access and or copies of any of your personal data or if you want to review, verify, correct or request erasure of your personal information, object to the processing of your personal data, or request that we send you a copy/a third party a copy your relevant personal data in a reusable format please contact the Compliance & Risk Manager in writing using their contact details above.

There is no fee in using any of your above rights, unless your request for access is clearly unfounded or excessive. We also reserve the right to refuse to comply with the request in such circumstances.

We may need to verify your identity if we have reasonable doubts as to who you are. This is another appropriate security measure to ensure that personal data is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it.

Ensuring our information is up to date and accurate

We want the service provided by us to meet your expectations at all times. Please help us by telling us straightaway if there are any changes to your personal information. If you wish to avail of any of these rights, please contact us at Lurgan Credit Union, 40 Church Place, Lurgan, BT66 6EU. Telephone 02838 325016.
